Office Hours:	I'm in class T-R from 8:30 to Noon, catch me before/after or try me at the landline otherwise.

Instructor Background:

I hated school. I counted the hours and days of high school like they were a prison sentence. I was bored out of my mind (and caused a lot of grief for my parents and teachers as a result). After (barely) finishing high school, I went off to Ball State University.

This was a new world. I loved it, but—after two years—discovered it wasn't quite right for me. It was too big. I came home and found a perfect fit at CCSJ, which is where I graduated with a degree in English. Shortly afterward, I got a job as an Admissions Counselor here. Over the years, I held various administrative roles. During this time, I got a Master's Degree in Liberal Arts from the University of Chicago and started teaching part-time. I saw this as an opportunity to bring to life the things that were often presented to me as dry and dull fact. It was my chance to spark a passion for learning.

After a decade, I left my full-time gig at CCSJ (though I continued teaching part-time) and worked for the City of Whiting for a few years before starting my own marketing consultancy. It all keeps me very busy, but in my spare time, I like to bicycle, kayak, camp and hike (though I shattered my arm a year ago, which has slowed things down a bit). I also enjoy photography, read a ton and go to lots of concerts. I've been married to the love of my life for 21 years (that she puts up with me is a daily astonishment). We have three hoodlum kids, a beautiful dog and an evil cat. When we are not off adventuring, we live in Whiting.

I reserve the right to change this schedule to meet the needs of the class. It is your responsibility to keep yourself updated. If you miss a class, you should check in on Blackboard to see if there has been a change.

Responsibilities
Attending Class	My responsibility: To be here, ready to go, on time, every time. I will do my best to make class lively, engaging and enjoyable. Your responsibility: To be here on time, reading completed, homework done. When I use the phrase “be here,” I don’t just mean that your body is taking up space. I want your mind to be present, too. Your grade hinges on it. You’ll need to engage in class discussion (which means you will have needed to complete the reading and writing assignments). Full points requires full participation. Speak up. Get engaged. “Being here” also implies a level of respect. Give whomever is speaking your full attention. In turn, I will insist that you are granted the same respect. There will be a lot of class discussion about a broad range of issues, some of which may well challenge comfortable notions. We all won’t always agree on everything and that is Ok. But when we disagree, we must do so without being disagreeable. Anything that moves into personally attacking someone is out of bounds. Let’s challenge each others’ ideas, but we must also respect the dignity of everyone when doing so.
Turning In Your Work	You cannot succeed in this class if you do not turn in all your work when due.
Meeting Standards for Classroom Behavior	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use all the class time. Come to class on time and stay in class until the end. Coming late, leaving early, and getting up during class disrupts the class and disrespects others. • Come prepared. Bring your texts, be prepared to take notes, and be able to demonstrate that you have completed the assignments for the day through your participation in class. • Respect others. Listen when your classmates and the instructor are speaking. Think about their contributions. Respond appropriately. • Use electronic devices only for class purposes. Engage with your classmates and the instructor without technological distractions.
CCSJ Student Honor	This course asks students to reaffirm the CCSJ Student Honor Code:

Code	I, as a student member of the Calumet College academic community, in accordance with the college's mission and in a spirit of mutual respect, pledge to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Continuously embrace honesty and curiosity in the pursuit of my educational goals; • Avoid all behaviors that could impede or distract from the academic progress of myself or other members of my community; • Do my own work with integrity at all times, in accordance with syllabi, and without giving or receiving inappropriate aid; • Do my utmost to act with commitment, inside and outside of class, to the goals and mission of Calumet College of St. Joseph.
Doing Your Own Work	If you turn in work that is not your own, you will be subject to judicial review by the Faculty-Student Grievance Committee. These procedures can be found in the Student Planner. The maximum penalty for any form of academic dishonesty is dismissal from the College. Using standard citation guidelines to document sources avoids plagiarism. You'll find guides to the major citation methods at the CCSJ Specker Library Web page at http://www.ccsj.edu/library/subjectsplus/subjects/guide.php?subject=cite PLEASE NOTE: All papers may be electronically checked for plagiarism.
Sharing Your Class Experience	Your voice matters! At the end of the term, you will have the opportunity to evaluate your classroom experience. These confidential surveys are essential to our ongoing efforts to ensure that you have a great experience that leaves you well prepared for your future. Take the time to complete your course evaluations – we value your feedback!
Withdrawing from Class	After the last day established for class changes has passed (see the College calendar in the CCSJ Course Catalog), you may withdraw from a course by following the policy outlined in the Course Catalog.

Resources
CCSJ Book Rental Program	The CCSJ Book Program ensures that everyone has the right course materials on the first day of class to be successful.
